SUPPORTING STRATEGY - EXCLUSIVE ANALYSIS' PROPRIETARY GLOBAL RISK INDEX

Disciplined by risk indicators, intelligence related to those indicators, and risk metrics, analysts formulate Risk Scores for countries and distinct threat types within those countries.

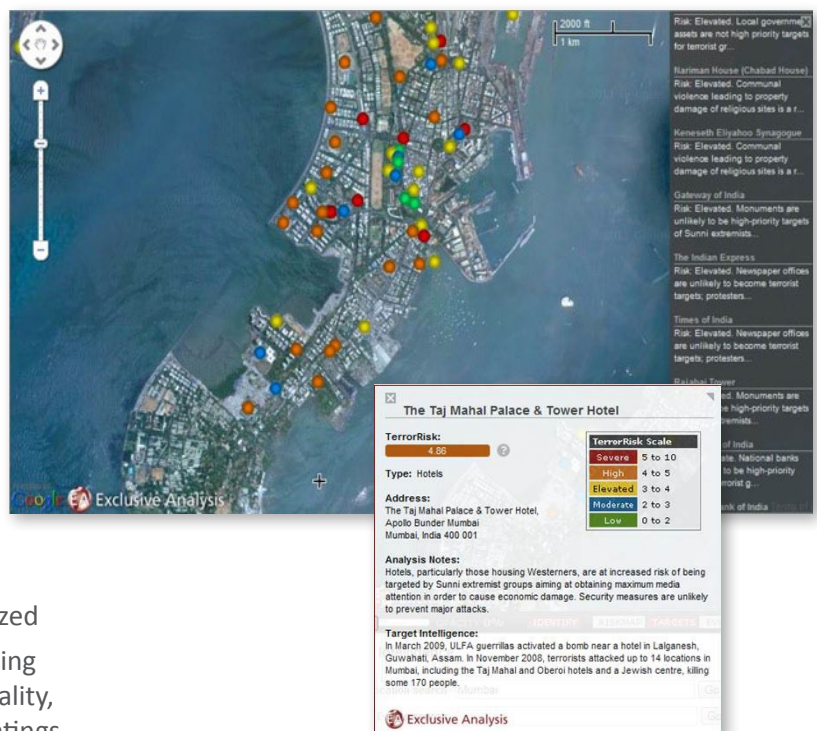

- To directly assess specific threats (e.g., of kidnap) drill down from the primary asset sets to precise Risk Scores for a further differentiated threat environment
- Interrogate the one-year Risk Score and use the three-year risk trend forecast as inputs to strategic planning
- Export Risk Index data (to Excel) to incorporate into existing decision documents. Compare different threat types within a country and risk levels between different countries to effectively allocate resources
